

TOWN AND COUNTY

Rev. S. H. Braly of McKenzie will fill the pulpit at the C. P. church in Dresden Sunday morning.

We very much regret to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Birtie Sandefer will leave Dresden in a short while for Memphis to reside.

The attention of democratic voters is respectfully called to the fact that a new county democratic executive committee is to be elected on Thursday, Aug. 6, a committeeman for each civil district, a special box to be provided for this purpose, by order the county committee.

Dell Madrey, the south side barber, has just installed a brand-new steam pressing and cleaning machine, the most expensive machine of the kind in the county, costing $300. He invites the public to call at his barber shop and see the machine in operation, and he invites you to read his advertisement in this issue of the Enterprise.

Attorney R. T. Lewis has for several days and nights been dreaming and thinking of the number 15. It all came about this way: July 15 he was called to the Fifteenth district to try fifteen lawsuits, receiving fees aggregating $15, the fifteen suits growing out of fifteen parents refusing to send their fifteen children to school in the Fifteenth district, and the suits being tried on the fifteenth day of July, and one day since then some one inquired of Mr. Lewis the time o' day, he replying, "Fifteen!"

The most glorious revival meeting in the history of Siloam church closed last Tuesday. The pastor, Rev. Saddle, was ably assisted by Mrs. Burch, who did most of the preaching. Seventeen conversions was the result, with seven additions to the church. The ordinance of baptism will be administered unto them on the third Sunday in August, at Northcutt's mill, south of Dresden, when there will be preaching in the forenoon, dinner on the ground and baptizing in the afternoon.

Particular attention is called to the advertisement in this issue of the Maxwell automobile, Messrs. Brock & Mitchell, Sharon, local distributors. These clever, thoroughly reliable young gentlemen will be glad to give a demonstration of the possibilities of this excellent, medium-priced car when ever called upon. We consider the Maxwell car one of the best medium-priced cars on the market today, and any one wishing a nice, stately looking car and a hill climber, would make no mistake in purchasing a Maxwell.

A large number of citizens from the Sixth district interested in the consolidated school suit in chancery court came to Dresden last Monday to hear the suit tried in this court, expecting chancery to be in session, but the chancellor failed to arrive until Tuesday. This case will not likely be heard before the latter part of the present week, or maybe next week. There is considerable opposition manifesting itself all over the county to the consolidation of schools and this question is going to be a lively one in this county during the next few years.

Rolandus Lewis came home sick this week from Memphis.

I will take hams and eggs in exchange for goods. Come in if you need anything in dry goods, as I will sell you what you want very cheap, as I want to close out my summer goods.—R. L. Jeter.

On last Sunday afternoon, at his home, Esq. Green Hawks solemnized the rights of matrimony between Mr. Jeff Garner and Miss Lizzie Dunn, popular young people residing north of Dresden.

Postmaster Carl Bowden will hold an examination at the post-office in Martin on Thursday, Aug. 8, for city mail carriers for Martin, of which there are to be several. All those who made a passing grade in the examination held on June 27 will be eligible for appointment in the order in which they passed.

I have just received a new shipment of ladies' ready-made mid-dies, dresses and aprons which will be sold cheaper than you can make them. Come and see these goods.—R. L. Jeter.

Lewis Aree, under bond in the sum of $500 for malicious shooting to appear before Magistrate Fuller, was called out on bond Tuesday afternoon, when his case was called and Aree failed to appear. Aree shot a negro named Hilliary Alexander here three weeks ago and was liberated after his arrest under bond in the sum of $500. The wounded negro is in a critical condition and may die.

Carl Melton, residing southeast of Dresden, received painful injuries while engaged in a ball game here Wednesday afternoon, the game being between the institute nine and the plow boys. Melton was holding first base and Fred Estes was trying to make first, Melton being in a stooping position to get the ball, when Estes ran into Melton, breaking three ribs and otherwise bruising him up. He was carried to a physician and his injuries dressed. The game resulted 7 to 7 in the sixth inning, when the institute boys left the diamond.

Mr. Cecil Moore and Miss Mary Foute were united in holy matrimony Thursday morning at 7 o'clock at her home, near Gardner. The groom is the son of Mr. J. C. Moore, who formerly resided in this community, while the bride is the beautiful and highly accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Foute. She taught school in Dresden the last term, making a legion of friends here who join in extending sincere congratulations and hearty good wishes. Mr. Moore and charming bride will engage in teaching the coming term in Texas.

My big sale closed out Wednesday night, but I am still selling many articles at the sale prices to close them out, such as lawns, ladies' underwear and ladies' hats.—R. L. Jeter.

The remains of Mrs. Sallie Brasfield, widow of the late North Brasfield, a former well-known and popular citizen of the Liberty neighborhood, were brought to Dresden Tuesday morning from Woodland Mills, where she died at the home of her son, Mr. Geo. Brasfield Monday, and conveyed to Liberty for interment. The funeral services were conducted by Brother Dan Johnson, a life-long friend of the deceased. Mrs. Brasfield was in the eighty-sixth year of her age. Since the death of her husband, some ten years ago, she has made her home with her children, spending most of the time with her daughter, Mrs. Ed Estes, at Martin. Mrs. Brasfield had been in very poor health for some time and her death was no surprise to relatives and friends. She was the mother of Mr. Addison Brasfield of Gleason. A large concourse of relatives and friends attended the burial at Liberty.

CHRISTMASVILLE ITEMS

Mrs. Bertie Crabtree had a severe spell of congestion last week, but is better now.

Mrs. Rosa Crabtree is on the sick list.

Mrs. Josephine Shaw is slowly improving.

Mrs. Nannie Aden is on the sick list.

Mr. Ebb Stafford is dangerously ill, and is reported to be worse.

Miss Martha Dawson has the fever, and her gums liked to have bled her to death last week.

The protracted meeting will begin at Prospect next Sunday.

Children's day was observed at Seminary last Sunday, with a large congregation and good speaking.

These were all-day services at Concord last Sunday, preaching by Bro. Butler in the morning, dinner on the ground and singing in the afternoon.

Pilgrim's Rest quartette sang at McKenzie last Sunday night. Also at Bradford Wednesday night.

The picnic at Pilgrim's Rest was a grand success. The sales were better than they ever had been. We cleared $60 for the treasury of the Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Scates gave

HALL'S BRANCH BUDGET

Mrs. Alice Cantrell is having a round of chills.

There was an ice cream supper at Will Sudnath's Friday night and one at Finis Paschall's Saturday night. The occasions were greatly enjoyed.

Protracted meeting is in progress at Jolley's Spring this week and attendance and interest is good. Rev. Butler is assisting Bro. John Powers, the pastor.

Mr. Bedford Wynn and some ladies, all of Tiptonville, were here Friday in Mr. Wynn's car. Mr. Wynn reports cotton fine in Lake county, but says corn is needing rain.

The protracted meeting at Siloam continues on this week. The sermons by Sister Burch seem to be well received and a good meeting has resulted.

Tuesday of last week Mr. Will Cantrell received a telegram from Memphis, stating his son, Ivan, was in the hospital there and would be operated on that afternoon for appendicitis. He left at once for Memphis, arriving a few hours after the operation had been performed. The young man was working as news agent on a run out of Memphis when stricken with the disease. He stood the operation very well and was rest-

Little Grethal Freeman has tonsillitis.

Last Thursday a crowd gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wash and made ice cream and lemonade. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Gov. Hattler, Ike Tuck and family, Johnnie Simpson and family, Talbert McWherter and wife and Misses Viola Baker, May Harris, Mamie Tuck, Essie Lee, Bodie and Irene Freeman, Cara Carney, Hilda Simpson, Alma Quarles, Johnnie Harris and Lucy Twiner, of Martin.

We learn that work will begin on Pisgah church Monday morning, with the expectation of getting it completed by the last of August.—A Subscriber.

Sunday School Picnic.

On Saturday, July 18, the Sunday school of the Mt. Zion Presbyterian church gathered at Peck's levee, where the day was spent for the benefit and pleasure of the little ones. There were about 125 who attended. The dinner was as fine as was ever spread or tasted, and plenty of it, too; also lemonade in abundance. Several of the men and boys carried their bathing suits and the ladies and children seemed to greatly enjoy seeing the swimming and diving, as many had never seen anything like it before.

The day was most pleasantly passed in singing, talking and laughing. Indeed, it was a great social gathering, nothing happened to mar the happiness of the occasion. Superintendent T. L. Mitchell was on hand with the following teachers and their classes: J. H. Finch, Jim Hester, Clarence Nield, Mrs. Sue Doberty and Mrs. Nield.

One of the most important events of recent times occurred last Saturday, when the people of this community gathered at Mr. Al Stout's to witness a great ball game between that good Pittman team and Mt. Arie. Pittman's raised a kick about the Mt. Arie team and they took out two of their best players. Then they went to the ball yard and the first thing they knew the Pittman team got scared and was leaving with their hats in hand and their heads bowed, and, oh, such hollowing and rejoicing Mt. Arie did do because they had scared them off! I believe I had rather play and get beat than to get scared and run off.—Blue Eyes.
